The University is sponsored by the ICFAI Society, a not-for-profit educational society established in 1984.

The University had its modest beginning, with six students in Management Studies, on September 3, 2007, from hired premises in Dimapur. Since its inception, the University has been motivated to impart quality education to the Youth of Nagaland and neighboring states. In April 2013, the University shifted to the permanent campus at Sovima Village in Chümoukedima (erstwhile Dimapur) district. At present, the university offers degree courses in the area of Management Studies, Computer Science, Social Sciences, Humanities, Commerce, Finance and Accounting. Most of the faculty members imparting quality education in the University are PhDs with adequate research experience from reputed Universities.

The University has adopted the Choice based Credit System (CBCS) to develop skills across the multi-disciplines, which will be helpful to students after graduating from the university with additional domain knowledge. Till date, 1531 students have graduated from this university which includes 12 PhDs and 12 MPhil graduates. Most of the students are placed in government and private organizations apart from few who took up entrepreneurship and pursuing higher studies both in India and abroad.
